INTRODUCTION TO BENNETT

Bennett College is a private, women's, four year, liberal arts institution affiliated with the United Methodist Church. Over the years, Bennett has graduated over 4,800 professionals who make their living in many disciplines. Bennett Excellence still thrives and the college continues to graduate intelligent, outstanding young women who are leaders and prominent members in society.

Bennett College advances cognizance of African-American heritage and history, and international relationships for preparation as world citizens. Although, historically, Bennett's students are of African-American descent, Bennett welcomes and does not discriminate against women of any race, creed or color.

When Bennett College was first founded in 1873, it was a coeducational institution. Lyman Bennett gave the first $10,000 for land and construction of a building large enough to serve as a classroom and a dormitory.

In 1926, the institution was reorganized as a women's college. The college sets out to foster an environment where the best in learning and human interaction takes place.

Currently Bennett College has an enrollment of over 600 students. The college endeavors to maintain standards of academic excellence and socialization through community service and scholarship. A young woman who matriculates at Bennett can confidently say "Bennett Excellence Still Thrives — B.E.S.T."

DEDICATION

1993

Dear Freshmen: We at Bennett College are indeed delighted to dedicate this annual to you. For we see in you a bright future for our Alma Mater. We envision many of you occupying positions at Bennett as president, vice-president, dean, directors, and faculty and staff. Proper application to your studies while at Bennett will assure you of becoming successful and productive citizens of the world community. Through you others will see Bennett College as she truly is, a citadel of educational excellence. Continue to hold aloft the torch of enlightenment. WE SALUTE YOU — BENNETT BELLES!

STUDENT LIFE

SPIRITS RISING IN STUDENT LIFE

At a time when students perceive the college imposes many "unnecessary" rules and regulations upon them such as: curfew, mandatory class attendance, and a dress code, many Belles question if there is indeed student life at Bennett.

The problem is states Trina Vincent, a sophomore from Indianapolis, "many students profess there aren't any activities on campus, but when there are campus events participation and attendance are far below par. The only way for students to enjoy campus life is to get involved."

▲ Sharon Staton enjoys Belle Fest activities

▲ Lequetta Johnson, Connie Kemp, Rhonda Mack and Sharon Turner picnic on the lawn

▼ Mrs. Cheston and Stephanie Robinson enjoy a friendly chat

▲ Cynthia Collins, Lisa Price, Karen Williamson and Rhonda Fisher enjoying a volleyball game

▲ Cynthia Robinson, Sophie Burrell, and Veneka Noble enjoy a beautiful day

◆ Stacey Morganfield and Chalee Shailes give their room a facelift

Cynthia Collins and Leslie Redfield enjoy Senior Day

On campus this year Bennett has hosted, contributed to, or sponsored many activities here as well as in the Greensboro community; numerous movie marathons, various club organized activities and outings, Morehouse Weekend, Sit-In Commemorations, various Black History Month programs and activities. A newly implemented drama program gave us three productions this year. The Student Christian Fellowship Club held monthly Christian Coffee House music and World gatherings. In addition, Gospel Fest '90 and Belle Fest Weekend were outstanding.

Perhaps "Student Life" at Bennett is not all we desire or hope for, but if we contribute a small amount of time and open our eyes and minds we can see that our hope is not in vain. OUR SPIRITS ARE RISING!!!

BELLE FEST WEEKEND

April 20th through April 21st was an action-packed weekend for the Bennett Belles. Belle Fest Weekend was loaded with activities that kept the campus buzzing. Friday began with a picnic on the Quad. Belles enjoyed hoagies, soft drinks and cotton candy while they mellowed out to Jazz music provided by The Maestro. Tommy G. Mixx pumped up the JAM at the Friday night block party. After feasting on the Mexican cuisine, no one had to be encouraged to dance off their extra pounds.

Saturday afternoon everyone gathered on the Quad once again for the barbeque. And the rain did not dampen the students' spirits as they relaxed, conversed and dined Al Fresco.

EMANCIPATION

The seniors are in a category of their own. They understand the plight of the underclassmen and can sympathize with them. They also have the sophistication and tact to rib the underclassmen without being cruel.

Our graduating seniors have chosen to lead. They have decided to step forth and take the helm of leadership. We have no doubt that no goal they have set is unobtainable for they have been taught well. They have been loved and have been taught to love themselves. We wish them much success in all their future endeavors, whatever the choice, for they are our future leaders.

Commencement could be seen as an emancipation. The seniors have struggled, and risen above adversities to reach the top of the ladder. Armed with knowledge, and determination they are ready to face any challenge on the future horizon. Emancipation has indeed just begun.

ANJANETTE LENORA DICKENS
1967 - 1988

Anjanette Lenora Dickens matriculated at Bennett College from Fall 1986 through Fall 1988. She was a member of the Class of 1990. Anjanette was a nursing major from Storrs, Connecticut.

She achieved success —
She lived well,
 laughed often,
 loved much.
She gained the respect
 of intelligent men and women.
Her life was an inspiration,
Her memory a benediction.

Bennett College will carry her memory as a benediction for the Class of 1990.

PRIVILEGE

Juniors are low key and relaxed. They have become serious minded with senior year just around the corner. They look back and realize that they aren't little sisters anymore, they are now big sisters. They have matured a great deal and they have taken on much responsibility. The junior class is privileged to have come so close to their senior year. Many whom they started out with have long since dropped by the wayside. They are now ready to accept the challenge of senior year.

LIBERTY

Having their freshman year behind them, the sophomores return bursting with energy. They are no longer the low men on the totem pole. They have been liberated. They have survived the rough period of adjustment called freshmen year and they are ready to climb to the next rung on the ladder. They enjoy taunting the freshmen and continually remind them that they are ignorant about the way things operate. How soon we forget! These beautiful, sophisticated, intelligent, upperclassmen were scared confused, freshmen only a few months earlier.

TIME TO WAKE UP

*Time for you to get involved!
There are so many mysteries and puzzles to be solved.*

*Wake up! People think you are lazy.
Wake up! People think you are crazy.
Time to show people who you are.
Time to show them that you can and will go far.
Time to show people that you will get a job and a life like your family and friends.
Time to show them that you are able to handle problems over and over again.*

*Time to wake up! Get an education and aim high.
Show these people your limit is the sky.
Time to wake up now! For too many years someone else made your bed.
Time to wake up! You have a body that needs to be clothed and a mouth that needs to be fed.*

*Time to wake up! Sleeping is over; dreaming needs to be shown. Time for you to make it on your own.
Time to wake up now! Time to stand beautiful and tall.
Show them, even though you know you don't have it all.
Time to wake up and start on your goal!
Time to wake up and show them who's in controll*

Damica Wilson

*You have other obligations that need your attention.
You have quite a few things that need to be mentioned.
Time to wake up! No telling what time sleep will keep you.
Time to wake and do what you've got to do!*

*Time for you to open your eyes. Rub them if you must.
Get up and take a breath of fresh air before you start to fuss.
Yawn and stretch out your arms; 'cause the day is going to be long*

*Brush your teeth
Comb your hair
Bathe in warm water
Show them that you care*

*Put on a bow or tie with your suit.
Eat a good breakfast, have a piece of fruit.
Eat some eggs and bacon along with some oatmeal.
Be aware of how you feel. Drink a cup of milk or coffee.
Be alert to what should and shouldn't be.*

*Read the morning paper or turn the t.v. to the news.
Turn on the radio listen to gospels, jazz or the blues.
BUT,
Before you go out that door to start your day,
Don't forget to bow your head to pray —
Time to wake up now ...*

INDEPENDENCE

Mass confusion fill the halls during freshman orientation. The students struggle to adjust to dorm life and college with its new freedom and challenges. Freshmen women are now independent. They call their own shots and make their own decisions. This newly found independence can sometimes be abused if it is misused. Every freshman young woman hopes to have a big sister who will show her the ropes and drop some science on how to cope at Bennett College.

All of the freshmen come with great expectation for this first year. Some of them surpass what they hoped to achieve while others fall short just within reach of their goals. Nevertheless, they continue to press on in a quest to become the phenomenal Bennett Woman.

Firm within each loyal heart!*

CHORUS

Hail the light that thou dost bring
True we've been throughout the past;
True to thee while life shall last.*

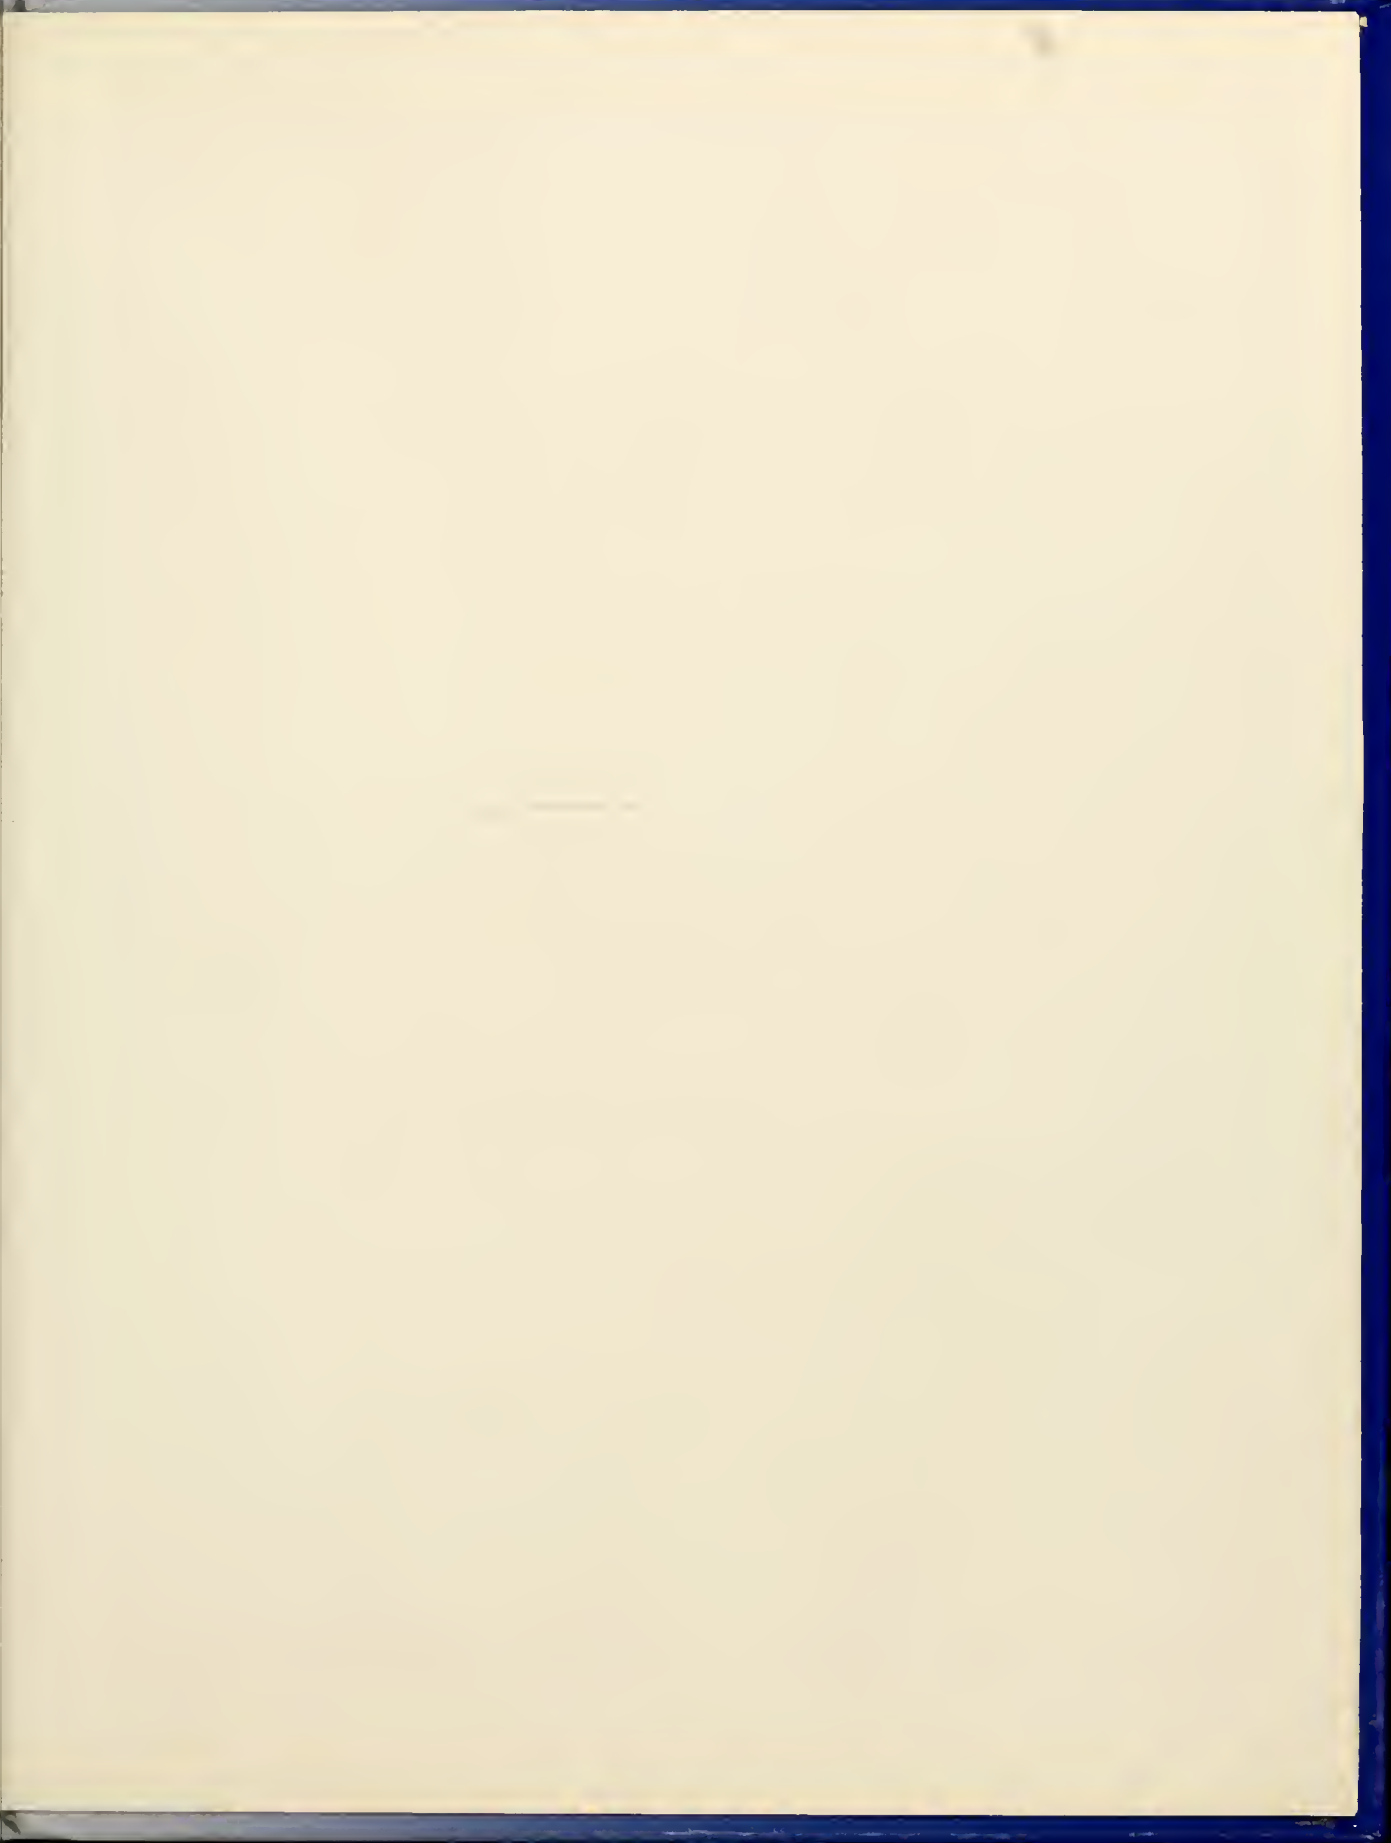

*May we never smirch the good
Gendered here in sisterhood
May we ever choose aright,
Guided but by honor bright;
Ever lovelier shalt thou live,
As thy daughters freely give;
Ever glorious above,
Testimonies of our love.*

*'Til the evening shadows fall,
'Til we heed our last clear call,
Mother, may we offer thee
Lives of worthy and purity!
Go with us throughout the years,
Smile on us in doubts and fears;
Bless us with thy tender care,
Mother — Fairest of the fair!*
